

Flemming Bo Larsen started as cadet in 1997 and graduated senior dual-purpose officer. Since 2006 taken up various positions in Copenhagen office related to crewing, operations and for the last 8 years dedicated worked with energy efficiency. Here, he has worked continuously improving the bunker performance of the Maersk Line fleet, both owned and chartered, by the use of performance measurement, concept development and implementation as well as technical retrofits. Currently holding the position as Head of Strategic Fleet Performance in Maersk Line. Graduated in 2015 the Executive MBA in Shipping & Logistics from Copenhagen Business School.

